TRAIN RAN INTO BURNING TUNNEL

MOST DEVILISH ACT OF WAR

Juarez, Mex., Feb. 7.—The six Americans and forty or fifty Mexicans whose fate has been a mystery since the destruction of the Cumbre tunnel last Wednesday, were suffocated. This information was received this evening at the headquarters of the Mexico Northwestern Railroad. The tragedy is laid at the doors of Maximo Castillo, the bandit leader.

A special train carrying 20 Americans, led by W. J. Farragut, of the Mexico Northwestern Railroad, 50 coffins and a rescue outfit left here to-night for the scene.

The exact number of persons aboard the passenger train, which consisted of one first-class, two second-class coaches, a baggage and express car and a freight car, is not known.

First reports put the number at 36, while a request for coffins asked for 75 of them. This evidently was an estimate, however, as the searching party, led by Dr. F. C. Herr, of Madera, was unable to penetrate far enough into the tunnel to count the dead.

These, it is expected, will be found strewn along the poisonous trenches of the tunnel, where they fell in attempting to escape. Dr. Herr reached a body within 300 feet of the north entrance to the tunnel. It was that of Juan Fernandez, rear brakeman of the train.

As the passenger train did not stop until within a few hundred feet of the freight train with which Castillo had set fire to the tunnel seven hours before, Fernandez must have staggered and crawled nearly three quarters of a mile before he succumbed to the fumes of the smoke. In his trail it is believed the others will be found, unless there was a stampede in the train to escape, and some were crushed in the attempt to crowd through the narrow aisles and doors.

Railroad men here and in El Paso are furious at Castillo's act. Tuesday 22 of his men were captured and executed by the rebels, and the next day, apparently in revenge, he captured the freight train, ran it into the south end of the tunnel about 300 feet, and there set fire to it.

The passenger train entered the death trap from the north unsuspectingly, probably traveling at its usual rate of about 15 miles an hour. When the engineer discovered the trap it was too late. Just what his actions were will be known only after an examination of the locomotive has been made.

Castillo's failure to send back warnings of his deed is regarded as the most cruel and murderous act of his career of outlawry, and there is a disposition here to criticize General Francisco Villa for not having crushed him long ago.

Ghastly Remains.

Cumbre, Chihuahua, Feb. 8.—Charred bones and several metal buttons and buckles from clothing were the only traces discovered today of the bodies of the train wrecked in the Cumbre tunnel of the Mexico and Northwestern Railway Wednesday. At least 15 Americans perished.

A rescue party, equipped with oxygen helmets to guard them against the effects of the smoke and fumes of the still-smoldering wreckage, made their way to-day from the south portal of the tunnel over the wreckage of the burned freight train to the locomotive and forward cars of the passenger train.

Nothing remained of the cars but the metal frames and trucks, and it is believed that the bodies of the imprisoned American and Mexican passengers must have been destroyed by the intense heat.

The wreckage is buried under from five to ten feet of earth and rock from the caved-in walls and roof of the tunnel. It is possible that this covering of earth may have protected some of the bodies, but little hope is entertained for the recovery of any of them in view of the evidence of the intense heat developed by the fire fanned by the draft through the narrow bore.

The wreckage near the north portal is still burning fiercely.

It was near this portal that the body of Juan Fernandez, rear brakeman and only survivor of the catastrophe, was found. He had struggled to within 300 feet of the entrance when he succumbed.

He was found in a sitting position with a handkerchief tied about his nose and mouth as a protection against the smoke and gas.

It is believed that many of the others on board the train made the same effort as did Fernandez to reach safety and that their bodies may be found strewn along the 3,000 feet of the tunnel. The tunnel appears to be caving in along its entire length, so the task of clearing the debris is a tremendous one.

The scene at the mouth of the tunnel to-day was pitiful, many of the women and children relatives of the Mexicans who lost their lives in the furnace having flocked there to await tidings of the fate of their loved ones. These, with tears in their eyes, urged the rescuers to make all possible haste and anxiously awaited news of the conditions inside the tunnel.

The report that Maximo Castillo was in command of the party that held up the freight train and pushed it into the tunnel, where it was set on fire, appears to be confirmed by information gleaned to-day from local sources.

Castillo had with him only 13 men and two women. It is said he did not stop the passenger train, but that he and his men went over the divide to watch the approach of the train and see it dash into the tunnel, where the track was blocked by the burning freight. The bandits then disappeared.

The discoveries made by the rescue party to-day indicate that the passenger train dashed into the freight with such force that the locomotive was disabled and the crew probably killed.

No attempt appeared to have been made to back the passenger train away after the collision.

A. S. of E. Notice.

On account of the inclement weather the Ohio County Union did not hold its intended session as advertised last week, so the body will be called to meet Saturday, the 14th, at 10 o'clock sharp, and all poultry and wool pools are urged to be present. State Secretary S. H. Robertson will address the body at one o'clock and everybody is invited to attend. It matters not whether you belong to the A. S. of E. or not, you are urged to be present.

If you have poultry to sell, you are, especially asked to be present at the morning session. You will be paid for your time and trouble to attend this meeting of the farmers. Don't forget the date. All farmers should be there.

Clarence Bales Dead.

Pneumonia caused the death of Clarence Bales, of Pleasant Ridge, at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. He was born near Pleasant Ridge and had lived in that vicinity during the 34 years of his life. He is survived by his wife and two children. A sister, Mrs. Anne Westfield, of Pleasant Ridge, and George Bales, of Owensboro, also survive.

Funeral services were from the Bell's Run Baptist church at 11 o'clock this morning. Rev. M. J. Cox, of Owensboro, conducting the services. Interment was in the church burying grounds. (Owensboro Intelligencer.)

Got Leg Broken.

Arthur Gore, who resides about one and a-half miles from Utica, got his leg broken Saturday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, when he fell from a freight car at the Utica station. Gore, with others, was loading machinery, which was to be used in digging an oil well, from a freight car to a wagon. One of the heavy pieces slipped and fell off the car, throwing him to the ground. A piece of lumber used in holding the machinery also fell and this struck him on the leg, breaking it between the ankle and knee. He was taken to his home, where he received medical attention.

COURT DECISION AFFECTS MANY

Convicts in the State Penitentiaries.

PAROLES DEEMED MANDATORY

For Prisoners When Minimum Sentences Have Been Completed.

DECISION CALLED "CALAMITY"

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—Hundreds of convicts now confined in the Frankfort Reformatory and the Eddyville penitentiary probably will be given their freedom in the near future, as the result of a decision handed down by Judge Settle, for the Court of Appeals, in which he construed the indeterminate sentence law, passed by the Legislature in 1910, as meaning that convicts, after serving their minimum sentences, are eligible for immediate parole providing their conduct for the prescribed period has been in accord with the prison rules.

The decision came in the case of John DeMoss, of Covington, who was sentenced to the penitentiary at Eddyville in 1910 on a charge of manslaughter for a term of from two to twenty-one years. At the end of his minimum term DeMoss asked for a parole, which was refused by the Board. He then entered suit, alleging that the law provided that he was eligible after having served the minimum sentence. The case was brought in the Franklin Circuit Court, the judgment of which was appealed to the Court of Appeals and to-day's decision affirms that judgment, in which DeMoss was granted a writ of mandamus compelling the Board of Prison Commissioners to release him.

At the office of the Board it was said that under Judge Settle's construction of the law there are 200 men in the Frankfort Reformatory and about 100 at the Eddyville penitentiary who now are in a position to file mandamus suits as DeMoss did, and that there are nearly 400 other convicts in the two prisons who will be eligible to parole within the next six months, making a total of almost 700 who may gain their freedom at the expiration of their minimum sentences.

The court said in the opinion written by Judge Settle:

"It is the manifest purpose of the indeterminate sentence law to require every person convicted thereunder to undergo by confinement and hard labor in the penitentiary the minimum term prescribed by law and the judgment of conviction, to take away from the Board of Prison Commissioners the arbitrary power to refuse him parole, if applied for at the expiration of the minimum period of confinement, provided he has for nine months next preceding the date of his parole, conformed in his conduct to the rules and regulations adopted by the Board for the government of prisoners.

"It was the intention of the Legislature to place it within the power of the convict to earn, as a reward for exemplary behavior, his release after serving a minimum term. The object of the statute is to hold out every inducement to the convict to earn his release by good conduct. If by thus qualifying himself the convict is eligible to parole, he is entitled to it, the Board is without discretion to withhold it and cannot arbitrarily refuse it."

Means "Public Calamity."

One of the members of the Board of Prison Commissioners, when told in Louisville of the decision of the Court of Appeals in the DeMoss case, which makes parole mandatory for prisoners who have a good prison record at the end of their minimum sentence under the indeterminate sentence law, declared the situation created by the Court of Appeals' interpretation of the law is little short of a public calamity, and urged immediate action by the Legislature to correct the defects in the present law.

"I have not read the decision of the Court of Appeals," said the member, "but if the facts are as stated it is little short of a public calamity."

DeMoss committed a cold-blooded murder, shooting his victim in the back. He was sent up under the indeterminate law for from two to twenty-one years and should have served his full sentence.

"Following the decision of Judge Settle, the Court of Appeals was compelled to release DeMoss or reverse itself. I have no criticism to make of the court. There is no remedy for it except to repeal the indeterminate sentence law, which should be immediately done by the General Assembly.

"Whether that action would affect those now serving terms under the indeterminate law is a question for the courts to decide when it reaches them.

"If the decision in the DeMoss case becomes effective at once it will release between 600 and 700 men from the two penitentiaries, and will eventually apply to every prisoner sentenced under the indeterminate law since June 18, 1910. These men are guilty of every crime in the calendar, and while many of them have made exemplary prisoners and are entitled to parole, the great majority of them should not be turned loose on the community.

"I can not say what action the Prison Commission will take until after we read the decision and consult with Gov. McCreary and the Attorney General."

ANTI-JAPANESE BILLS

SIDETRACKED BY BRYAN

Washington, Feb. 7.—Secretary of State Ryan to-day succeeded in convincing the House Committee on Immigration of the wisdom of permitting discussion of pending bills to restrict Japanese and Asiatic immigration, and it is unlikely there will be any anti-Japanese legislation this session.

Secretary Bryan declared that consideration of the measures would embarrass the administration in its efforts to reach an amicable adjustment of the controversy with Japan over the California alien land law. He said he was convinced that, if no unforeseen obstacles arise, the two Governments will reach a mutually satisfactory agreement. There is no demand for the restrictive legislation, he added, except on the Pacific coast, and most of that he attributed to the activity of the newspapers there.

Representatives Raker and Hayes of California, both of whom have introduced bills prohibiting immigration of Japanese, were the only members of the committee who were not convinced by Secretary Bryan's arguments.

PITY THE BEAN-EATERS CAN'T GET TOGETHER

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 9.—Heas drove Anna Danner to seek a divorce from Melvin Danner, so Mrs. Danner testified in court here. When she was ill in bed it fell to the lot of Danner to prepare the meals for himself and his sick wife and, so the wife testified, Danner would cook nothing but beans. He would feed her beans for breakfast, dinner and supper, and if any were left over, he'd warm 'em up for the next day or else cook a fresh batch.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 9.—"My wife forced me to eat beans for breakfast, dinner and supper," declared James T. Fisher, who is suing for divorce. "We even had beans for Thanksgiving and Christmas."

WORTH FORTY MILLIONS.

BUT IS IN HARD LINES

El Paso, Feb. 6.—His immense income tied up by three years of revolution, Alberto Terrazas, of the Mexican family who owns an estate of forty millions in gold, has been compelled to seek means of a livelihood. This information, which astounded Mexico as similar news affecting Rockefeller or the Vanderbilts would be received in the United States, became known to-day when Terrazas departed for Pasadena, Cal., with his family, where he expects to buy or lease a small farm where he can make a modest living.

Babe Shot To Death.

Evansville, Ind., February 7.—Vern Hathaway, 3 years old, was killed accidentally here this afternoon. Her brother, 7 years old, knocked over a shotgun and the weapon was discharged, the lead hitting the girl who was in a nearby room.

The United States has issued a call for the holding of the third peace conference at The Hague next year.

PRASE MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS

Conducted By This Educator
To Eradicate Illiteracy
From State.

HER CAMPAIGN A NOBLE WORK

Washington, Feb. 7.—The House Committee on Education to-day wrote the name of Cora Wilson Stewart, County School Superintendent in Rowan county, Ky., in the list of great educators of the United States.

In a report to the House the committee described the successful work of Mrs. Stewart in eradicating illiteracy from Rowan county in her famous moonlight schools.

The report was in connection with the Lever bill for a commission to investigate illiteracy in the United States and study methods for its elimination. In reporting this bill favorably the committee described the work of Mrs. Stewart in Rowan county as the best example of the possibilities of eradicating illiteracy.

"In Rowan county, Kentucky," said the report, "the illiteracy among grownup men in that county has been reduced in three years from more than 13 per cent. to practically nothing. Mrs. Stewart wrote the committee a short time ago that there were now only six men and women in the county who could not read and write."

The history of that achievement is one of the most interesting and hopeful chapters in the records of educational progress in this country. Mrs. Stewart, whose name deserves an honorable place among American educators, decided to make an effort to abolish the stain of illiteracy.

She called her teachers together, outlined her plan, and called for volunteers. All the teachers of the county responded. On Labor Day, September 4, 1911, these teachers visited the homes of the people throughout the county, explained the plan and announced that moonlight schools would be open the next evening.

More than 1,200 men and women, from 10 to 86 years old, were enrolled the first evening. Among these were not only illiterate farmers and their illiterate wives, sons and daughters, but also illiterate merchants, illiterate ministers and illiterate lumbermen.

After an extended description of the technical method employed in Rowan county the report concluded: "Illiteracy is much more easy of eradication than the hook worm. The experiment in Kentucky showed that in most cases an adult can learn to read and write in one month. One man, 30 years old, after four lessons, wrote the Superintendent a legible letter. Another man, 70 years old, wrote a legible letter after seven nights. A woman, 70 years old, wrote a legible letter after eight nights of study.

"In most cases a few weeks' attendance at the night schools was sufficient to enable the adult pupils to pass over the dark line of illiteracy and into the class of literates. This experiment conclusively shows that it is possible to bring help to illiterate men and women even under the most adverse circumstances."

"The proportion of the wholly illiterate adults among the population of the United States is a national disgrace, which can be very quickly eliminated," declared the report.

CHICKENS EATING UP STREETS.

Maysville, Ky., Feb. 9.—Some time ago the town of Dover, in this county, repaid its streets with ground-up mussel shells. They had been broken up fine, and now the town authorities are up in arms because the chickens are eating up the streets.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Immediately after morning prayer when the House convened to-day, Representative Swager Sherley procured unanimous consent for the consideration of the James joint resolution making former Senator Joseph C. S. Blackburn resident member of the Lincoln Memorial Committee, and the resolution was adopted without a dissenting voice. As resident commissioner, Mr. Blackburn will receive a salary of $5,000 a year.

Representative Martin Dies, of Texas, who blocked action on the Blackburn resolution two days ago, was not in the House when Mr. Sherley called it up to-day. However, he had been persuaded by Senator James and others to withdraw any objection to it. The resolution had already passed the Senate.

MARRIED SO FAST HE FORGOT WIFE'S NAMES

New York, Feb. 9.—Lionel Lawrence, who had the distinction of having been married eleven times, is dead of apoplexy. Several of his former wives attended his funeral, after which he was buried in Kensington, N. Y.

Lawrence, who had just turned the half century mark, took his last wife two years ago. The ten others had been married to him and parted from him in such rapid succession he had forgotten some of their names.

Lawrence, who was an actor and stage manager of considerable note, said after his marriage with Miss Ernestine May Borch, in 1912:

"I hope I have rung down the curtain on positively the last appearance of Lionel Lawrence in matrimony."

A few weeks later his wife called on an attorney and tearfully asked him to file a suit for annulment. She said she had married Lawrence thinking he had been married only once before.

Lawrence's matrimonial enterprises began in 1881, when he married a Miss Cummings. Of late years he could never recall what her first name was. Miss Cummings divorced him and then he took wives as fast as they could drop him, until he had accumulated eleven.

IRVINGTON, KY., SWEEP BY DISASTROUS BLAZE

Fire starting at 11 o'clock Wednesday night caused a loss of from $75,000 to $100,000 at Irvington, Ky., before it was subdued, at 3 o'clock before it was subdued, at 3 o'clock before it was subdued, at 3 o'clock before it was subdued. The amount of insurance carried was small compared with the losses.

A bucket brigade was organized which did valiant service in the absence of any modern fire-fighting apparatus.

The following business houses were destroyed or badly damaged: Trent's general store, total loss with small insurance.

Alexander's mercantile store, total loss.

First State Bank Building, entire loss.

Newson Gardner, store, total loss, with small insurance.

Dr. P. H. Nevitt's offices and instruments were destroyed with no insurance.

Dr. Lee's drug store and contents were badly damaged. In this same building the Masonic Lodge rooms were damaged.

Irvington is a town of 1,200 population and is one of the best towns in Breckenridge county, of which Hardinsburg is the county seat. It is on the "Texas" railroad, in the midst of a good farming country, and is a prosperous community.

BEN JOHNSON SENDS AID TO FIRE SUFFERERS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 6.—Representative Ben Johnson to-day telegraphed the Mayor of Irvington, Ky., to draw on him at once for $100 with which to succor the poor of that town which two days ago was visited by a severe fire. After the $100 is exhausted, Mr. Johnson has authorized the Mayor to draw on him for any reasonable sum in excess of that. Mr. Johnson represents the district in which Irvington is located, and his first knowledge of the disaster was gained this morning when the Kentucky papers arrived. He was touched by the stories of the sufferers.

The dates for the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans at Jacksonville, Fla., were changed from April 29, 30 and May 1 to May 6, 7 and 8.

Postmaster General Burleson announced that he did not approve of postmasters' conventions under present conditions.

MONTH IN WHICH YOU WERE BORN

Means Much, According To Old Science.

CHARACTER AND DISPOSITION

Also Success and Happiness
In Life Governed By The Planets.

MEANING OF THE BIRTH DATE

Does the month in which one is born really have an influence on the character and disposition and success and happiness in life? There are those who are inclined to scoff at the idea; but it is only necessary to read the writings of those who have made a special study of the subject, and to compare their statements with one's own life and that of their friends and relatives to become convinced that there is much to be learned from those who claim to be experts in regard to foretelling the future by basing their calculations on the date upon which one was born.

Probably no man has made a closer study of the subject than "Chiero," a palmist and astrologist, who most truly remarks in his book, "When Were You Born?" that "those people who have some means at their command to learn their own characters and the dispositions of others, must certainly be three armed in the battle of life, and consequently more successful than those who know nothing of such things."

"Chiero" says he has seen many wicked and broken lives where, had people possessed a slight knowledge of their own dispositions, they might have been saved. And this knowledge he endeavors to give in his book.

Persons born in January, according to "Chiero," have strong mental force, but they are, as a rule, generally misunderstood by others. They are thinkers, reasoners, and should aim for some form of public life, for they generally do best in such careers.

They have strange ideas of love, duty and social position, and for this reason they are often considered odd, and do not fit in easily with their neighbors. But they have warm hearts toward suffering and as a rule give largely to charities.

This is also characteristic of persons born in February. While excellent in business and finance, as a general rule they are more successful for others than for themselves. They are usually highstrung, oversensitive and, while not demonstrative in affection, feel very deeply.

Those born in March have rather peculiar temperaments. They are inclined to brood and become melancholy and worry about what their future position in life may be. "This state of mind is, I think," said "Chiero," "largely due to their dislike and dread of being dependent on others more than from any love of money." Many artists, musicians and literary people are born in March, but they must receive encouragement to make the best of themselves.

The main characteristics of those born in April are strong will power and great obstinacy of purpose. They are born fighters; they have also the greatest ability as organizers on a large scale, such as in the formation of big schemes, for as a rule they are unhappy in their marriages. They rarely meet members of the opposite sex who understand them.

Sincerity is the keynote of persons born in May. If they love they are generous to the last degree and will consider no sacrifice too great for the person they care for. If they are enemies they will fight with the most determined obstinacy to death. But they always fight in the open, for they hate trickiness, double-dealing or deceit. At the same time neither men nor women born in May should marry early, their first marriage being usually a mistake.

Of all it appears those born in June are the most difficult to understand. In temperament they are hot and cold almost at the same moment. They make clever actors, lawyers, lecturers and a certain class of public speakers—all those who play a changing role in life's drama; but if endowed with unusually strong will power, and if they can force themselves to stick to one thing, then they generally make brilliant successes of whatever they undertake in any sphere of life.

Persons born in July usually are restless in disposition and have a constant longing for travel and change. They always are making homes and rarely keeping them. Inclined to speculate and make money quickly in all gambles, they generally lose, whereas in business they are, as a rule, most successful. With their employer they never shirk work or the putting forward of his interests.

Great soldiers, leaders in finance, and public men often are born in August. The usual characteristics of people whose birth month this is are sympathy and generosity, although somewhat impetuous and quick-tempered. They make enemies through their frankness and straightforwardness, and have a tendency to get terribly deceived, and in the end become bitter, severe and over-critical.

Those born in September usually make good literary critics, being quick to see the weak points, while at the same time they are rapid readers and endowed with wonderful memories. In the execution of almost anything they set their minds on they generally succeed.

A varied career is usually the portion of persons born in October. They often are successful as speculators or gamblers, but have little regard for money. Large numbers of them seem to drift naturally into the study of the law, and in it they generally make a name as lawyers, barristers or judges. In marriages, however, they are seldom happy, for in affection they appear to weigh matters too much.

Curious are the characteristics of those born in November, for up to 20 years of age they usually are extremely pious, virtuous and religious, but once their nature is aroused they are often found to swing in the opposite direction. They have great magnetic powers, and in danger and in sudden crises are cool and determined. Many of the best surgeons have been born in November.

In December the great workers are born, who seem never to tire until they wear themselves out. They have enterprise in business, but never feel themselves confined to any one line. For this reason one often finds the men of this period change from clerical to stock brokers or from professors to followers of trade. As a rule, from their intense concentration and will power they are successful in whatever they do, and they should always be allowed a free hand in choosing their vocation.

SOUTH NEGLECTED IN VITAL MATTER

Land Reclamation Work
Needs Attention.

MILLIONS SPENT IN FAR WEST

To Reclaim Arid Lands, But Nothing For Southern Central States.

WHO IS TO BLAME FOR THIS?

News from Washington indicates that the neglect of the South in land reclamation work continues while the Far West is getting more and more Government aid and consideration.

The National Government has expended approximately $75,000,000 on the reclamation of a little over 3,000,000 acres of arid land in the Far West. It has spent nothing for the reclamation of the 75,000,000 acres of swamp and overflowed lands of the country, the most of which are in the Southern and Central States.

Secretary Lane of the Interior Department, which has the irrigation work in charge, favors an appropriation of $100,000,000 for additional work, but has said nothing in favor of public appropriations to aid in the work of flood protection and the reclamation of the swamp and overflowed lands of our section.

With a Southern man in the President's chair, a Southern man as Speaker of the House, and both Houses of Congress Southern in politics and the control in the hands of Southern men, it seems a great oversight that nothing is being done for land reclamation in the South and Central West.

The situation is all the more pathetic when it is recalled that the reclamation of the swamp and overflowed lands and their protection from floods, means much more to the whole United States than the reclaiming of a few million acres from the desert. It means many hundred million dollars in annual crops, the saving of more than a hundred million dollars a year in flood losses, the prevention of many deaths in floods and of many more needless deaths and inestimable suffering due to malaria and other diseases caused by the existence of swamps.

There is pending in Congress a measure that would do for the South and Central West all that the Reclamation or Irrigation Act has done for the arid West. It is the bill (H. R. 8189; Senate 7194) presented in the House by Speaker Clark and in the Senate by Speaker John Sharp Williams of Mississippi. This is known as the Clark-Williams flood protection and drainage bill and is supported by the National Drainage Congress whose next annual meeting is to be held at Savannah, Ga., April 22-25, 1914.

The Clark-Williams bill is not in conflict with either the Newlands River Regulation or the Randall-Hampshire Levee bills. It makes immediately available about $30,000,000 for flood protection and drainage work, placing the expenditure of this sum in the Department of the Interior. It is, in reality, an extension of the Arid Land Irrigation act to include flood protection and drainage in the South and Central West and to put all of the country on an equal footing.

The Clark-Williams bill provides that the Secretary of the Interior shall make surveys and plans for flood protection and drainage projects; that he may undertake the construction of the work with the consent of the land owners and States, the cost to be repaid by a tax upon the lands, assessed and collected by the State authorities; or he may turn the plans over to the owners or States for them to carry into effect. It provides that the Secretary of the Interior may purchase the drainage bonds issued by the State or drainage district, at par, to supply the needed funds. It provides for co-operation between two or more States in the construction of interstate drainage or flood protection projects. It provides for co-operation between the Departments of War and the Interior when the question of navigation is involved.

In fact the Clark-Williams bill will provide for the systematic, comprehensive and speedy reclamation of swamp and overflowed lands and their protection from disastrous floods. It will be passed and the South will receive the consideration to which this great and rich and largely undeveloped and neglected section of the country is entitled.

But this will not be done until our Southern Senators and Representatives awake to a realization of our interests and give their support to Speaker Clark and Senator Williams in procuring this or some similar bill.

Are our Representatives in Congress asleep at the switch, or is the main trouble with ourselves? If we want relief we must speak in no uncertain tones and demand it. That is how the people of the Far West obtained their great appropriations. We will continue to be overlooked so long as we remain supine and complacent.

The only reason why the South is not receiving similar aid in the reclamation of its lowlands is because the Southern Representatives in Congress have not demanded the necessary legislation; and the reason our Representatives have not made this demand is because we have not told them to make it.

Are our Representatives asleep at the switch, or are we the ones who need awakening?

MRS. W. W. LAKE

Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The grippe had left me in a weak, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you.

PLAIN TALK

From Two Prosperous Housewives, About Peruna.

Mrs. E. T. Gaddis and Manilla, and can say for me that any other medicine I have ever taken. Now I am as well as ever. I do all my own work and it never hurts me at all. I think Peruna is a great medicine for womanhood."

Mrs. Sarah Frye, No. 105 Sylvan Ave., Ashbury Park, N. J., writes: "I have no words to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure that Peruna has done for me. It is a godsend to all suffering women. Peruna has done wonderful work for me."

"I was sick over half of my life with systemic catarrh. I want this letter published far and wide, as I was a great sufferer, but to-day I feel as well as anybody can feel."

"Nearly all my life I have spent nearly all I could rake and scrape for doctors, but none of them did me any good. But since I started on your Peruna one year ago I have at last found relief in your wonderful Peruna. I had begun to think that I was not going to get well, but thank God I am well to-day."

"I hope and pray you may live long to help others as you have helped me. Instead of being a walking drug store I am growing fat and doing well. I will never be without Peruna."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

HEBER MATTHEWS, FRANK L. FELIX,
EDITORS.
FRANK L. FELIX, Pub. and Prop'r.

Entered at the Hartford post-office as mail matter of the second class.

We cannot help but think that if all the tobacco growers of this section had retained their allegiance to and stood back of the old A. S. of R., both the Society and their own interests would have been better helped in the matter of selling the tobacco; not that the Consolidated was wrong in purpose or organization, but the Equity seems peculiarly fitted to help the farmers here. The old A. S. of R. is still here, however, and yet appeals to the farmers as a helpful organization.

We notice that the Endurance Race will be run at the Kentucky Derby again this year. It was hoped by those who have a due regard for that noble animal, the horse, and who possess humanitarian views of any degree whatever, that this event would be dropped from Kentucky's classic race meet. It is a species of cruelty and a relic of barbarism that has no place in modern equine speed contests. Usually the winner or its opponents either die at the goal or are disabled for life. The Four-Mile Endurance Race should be abolished.

"The Kentuckian" is a very bright and interesting magazine recently established at Lexington and edited by Mr. Ryland C. Musick. It is beautifully printed and illustrated. This magazine appeals especially to Kentuckians—those who reside here and enjoy matters of current interest, and those who have moved away and wish to preserve the imperishable names and events of the State's worthy history. A postal card request will bring a sample copy to anyone. The subscription price is only $1 a year but we will have both it and The Herald sent one year to anybody for $1.50.

The Far West has become renowned in recent years for its wondrous accomplishments in the way of irrigation and reclamation of arid lands, but the cause of it all is because that section has gotten so much aid from the Government in this matter. It is about time the Southern-Central section was getting some aid from Uncle Sam also, for flood protection and reclamation of millions of acres of swamp and overflowed lands. This matter has been too long neglected and the time is here when the South with its millions of undeveloped acres should come into its own.

A health officer in Louisville, taking cognizance of the recent outbreak of smallpox in the Kentucky Legislature and fearing, as he says, of its spread into Louisville, urges everybody to be vaccinated, closing his warning with the assertion: "It will certainly prevent the disease, and is a perfectly safe procedure." He is badly mistaken in this contention. History of the disease has proven that vaccination will not "certainly prevent the disease," and that it is not "a perfectly safe procedure." Vaccination is all right for those who want it, but plain history should be kept in mind.

The Marlon (Ky.) Falcon says: "Aside from being County Court day, next Monday will also be ground-hog day. It is not often that these two dates fall together, and in view of this fact, we would like for every one of our subscribers who is in arrears, and who expects to be in Lebanon on that day, to resolve to visit the Falcon and settle up and renew."

Any old day is ground-hog day in The Herald office, when it comes to paying subscriptions. We invite our subscribers in arrears to call and fill the shop with sunshine (of the financial variety) and we'll take chances on any gloomy weather which may follow.

The Fiscal Court of Ohio county and the County Road Engineer are consulting the farmers of Ohio county this week upon the subject of roads. No more important matter ever confronted the farmers of the county than this. The county officials simply want to talk with the farmers and find out what is best to be done. There should be a large attendance at each meeting. The meetings yet to be held are: February 11th—Hartford, 9 to 11 a. m. Bell's Run, 1 to 3 p. m. Ralph schoolhouse, 7 p. m. February 12th—Deanfield, 9 to 11 a. m. Herbert, 1 to 3 p. m. Fordville, 7 p. m. February 13th—Dundee, 9 to 11 a. m. Cane Run church, 7 p. m. February 14th—Renfrow, 9 to 11 a. m. Cromwell, 2 p. m.

There has been some talk in legal circles about Kentucky tobacco pools being illegal under certain edicts of law which have been formulated or expounded. As a way of complying with the law and accomplishing the same purpose, we would suggest that district tobacco companies be organized and incorporated under the laws of the State, with presidents, vice presidents and secretaries, the farmers taking stock in same according to their financial ability or amount of crop they expect to raise. We feel sure that the details could be worked out satisfactorily and with full legal capacity. This is merely a suggestion, given for what it may be worth.

Any man who can stand the onrush of 400 women suffragists, demanding answer to a very pointed question, and come out unscathed mentally and physically, is certainly a diplomat who can "dip" in great fashion. But that is just what our President went through with one day last week. They asked President Wilson to urge the Democratic party to favor an amendment to the Constitution enfranchising women. The President replied that he could not speak as leader of the Democratic party on any legislation until the party has spoken. Then the ladies filed out, but some of them refused to shake the President's hand at parting. Mr. Wilson smiled pleasantly and went back to his work.

GOOD ROADS MEETINGS COMMANDING INTEREST

County Judge Jno. H. Wilson and County Road Engineer T. H. Benton went to Cool Springs Monday to be present at the first of the series of Good Roads Meetings to be held throughout the county this week, as announced in The Herald the past three issues. A very interesting meeting was held at Cool Springs from 9 to 11 o'clock a. m.

They went from there to Hopewell in the afternoon and to Rockport at night. A meeting was held at Equality yesterday morning and at Centertown in the afternoon.

Much interest is being manifested and much good will result from these meetings.

The County Judge, Road Engineer and each Justice of the Peace deserve much credit for the interest manifested in public road improvement throughout the county.

County Judge Wilson and County Road Engineer Benton will attend each meeting scheduled to run throughout the week, ending with a meeting at Cromwell next Saturday afternoon. Some of the eight Justices of the Peace will be in attendance at each meeting and it is hoped that these meetings will be well attended by the farmers, business and professional men throughout the county, thus assuring a general awakening of a spirit for better roads in Ohio county.

This end can only be attained by personal sacrifice on the part of everyone, for the financial condition of the county is such that the money available for the working of the roads is necessarily limited, but if this is supplemented by liberal donations in cash or work, the public roads can soon be put in fine condition, thereby benefiting everybody.

PROPOSALS FOR BRIDGE LUMBER.

In compliance with an order of the Ohio County Fiscal Court, I will receive sealed bids from now until February 16, 1914, for furnishing all bridge and culvert timbers to be used in each of the voting precincts of Ohio county, Kentucky, for the year of 1914. Said lumber to be furnished of either white oak, black oak, red oak or chestnut, and of such dimensions as may be required for each separate bridge or culvert, and to be delivered on the ground and at such points and in such quantities in each of said precincts as may be required for said use, under my direction, and I hereby reserve the right to reject any or all bids that are not satisfactory to myself and the Fiscal Court of Ohio county, Ky. Bids to be enclosed in an envelope and marked "Sealed Bid" with no other name on them, this envelope to be enclosed in another which may be stamped and addressed to T. H. Benton, County Road Engineer, Hartford, Ky.

This January 13, 1914.

THE POOLS OF TOBACCO ARE PROBABLY ILLEGAL

Former New York Mayor Discusses Proposed Anti-Trust Measures.

Washington, Feb. 7.—In discussing the "definition of monopoly" bill in the anti-trust program before the House Judiciary Committee this morning, Seth Low, former Mayor of New York, declared that Kentucky tobacco pools were made illegal under the measure.

Representative R. Y. Thomas, Jr., of Kentucky, a member of the committee, was inclined to agree with Mr. Low. It is expected that Representative J. C. Chittell will at once take up the matter with the Kentucky delegation with a view to changing the phraseology of the bill. Mr. Low had said that farmers' organizations, although intrastate, whose products are later distributed among the States, are made illegal under the monopoly definitions bill.

"In Kentucky," interjected Mr. Thomas, "we have tobacco pools which have doubled the price of tobacco. These are strictly State pools, but the tobacco, after it is sold, goes into interstate business, of course."

"Then, under this law," responded Mr. Low, "such tobacco pools will be illegal. Gentlemen, for this and other reason you had better go slow about accepting the phraseology of this bill without change."

The definition of forbidden combinations proposed, Mr. Low said, would include labor unions, farmers' co-operative associations, and preliminary rate conferences by railway traffic agents now approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Laborers were entitled to combine for better wages or hours, Mr. Low contended, although combinations such as boycotts which affected interstate trade should be forbidden. He feared any effort to define the prohibitions of the Sherman law would weaken that statute.

BEGINNING OF THE END IN THE MEXICO MATTER

The Louisville Herald says:

The approval with which President Wilson's abrogation of the Taft attitude toward Mexico has been received is altogether remarkable. When Republicans of the standing and responsibility of Senators Lodge and Root are found applauding the stand of a Democratic Chief Executive, then can all the world understand that the American people are back of their President.

And it is important that such should be the case, that it should be made clear everywhere and to all nations that not an impulse, but a steady and studied popular sentiment is behind this expression of American ideas. There is no enthusiasm in this country for one side or the other in the Mexican mix-up. There is, first and last, a well-defined conviction that most of us know nothing about the actual situation, and that the news that does trickle through is garbled and doctored. We can watch from afar, but there is no certainty that we are not provided with a gallery of a show that is unreal.

But some things are certain. What was bad is becoming infinitely worse. The economic situation in Mexico is fast growing desperate; it engages, and it has a right to engage, the serious attention of European governments; exasperation is a condition that we can not pretend to ignore on the part of those to whom our honor is engaged.

Europe, however, approves. Statesmen are mainly surprised at our patience, and Huerta, drinking his cerveza at a cafe, is understood to be considering time-tables. The end is brought measurably nearer. So much seems certain.

LOUISVILLE MAKES A BID FOR REGIONAL BANK

Louisville, Feb. 9.—Twenty-two bankers of this section left tonight for New Orleans, where they will appear before the organization committee of the Treasury Department Wednesday morning to present Louisville's arguments for a regional bank to be created under the new currency law. Congressman Swager, Senator Ollie James accompanied the party. H. H. Eagles, of the Owensboro Banking Co., was also a member of the party.

PURE FOOD AND DRUG BOARD IS ABOLISHED

Washington, Feb. 7.—The board of food and drug inspections in the Department of Agriculture, which often was the center of attack by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief chemist, has been abolished by Secretary Houston.

At the Department of Agriculture

It was said the board had been abolished in the interest of efficiency and economy. Dr. Carl Alsberg, who succeeded Dr. Wiley as pure food chief, will decide the appeals that formerly went to the board. He will be assisted by Dr. R. L. Emerson.

Dr. Wiley hotly attacked the pure food board in unmeasured terms at various stages of his administration, declaring its operations hampered administration of the spirit of the pure food laws.

"Under the new plan the enforcement of the pure food law will virtually be entrusted to one man. That was what Dr. Wiley contended for."

CHILD FALLS ON NAIL —IS INSTANTLY KILLED

Paris, Ky., Feb. 9.—Falling from a bed upon a nail with which he was playing, caused the death this afternoon of Virgil Miner, aged 3, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Miner, residing on the Ford's Mill road, a few miles from this city.

The child had been left alone in the room by its mother while she was attending to some household duties. He was seated on a bed playing with some thirty-penny spikes. It is supposed he attempted to get off the bed with one of the nails in his hand and fell. The nail entered his nose and penetrated the brain, causing instant death.

KENTUCKY DERBY WILL BE WORTH A FORTUNE

This Year—Jockey Club Decides
To Add $10,000 To The Event.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 9.—The Kentucky Derby for 1914 will be the richest Derby ever run in Kentucky.

The New Louisville Jockey Club has decided to add $10,000 to the classic, which is the largest amount that has ever been added since the first Derby was run in 1875. The money added has been, as a rule, $4,000 or $5,000, and $6,000 has been the maximum.

With the usual number of entries, the $10,000 added will bring the total value of the Derby to $14,000 or $15,000 and will make the race worth to the winning horse between $10,000 and $12,000.

With this rich prize to strive for, the turfmen of the State will be keener than ever to produce a three-year-old that can put his name on the list of Kentucky Derby winners.

The increase in the value of the Derby will not affect the Endurance race, which is the feature of the fall meeting. This will be continued at four miles and will continue to be one of the richest prizes of the turf. The commission believes that the trainers will give their Endurance candidates the proper training for the long journey and thus develop the stamina which is one of the chief objects of the Endurance race.

WAS BORN IN ENGLAND —DIED IN OHIO COUNTY

Mr. T. H. Sanders, deceased, was born in the town of Stoke, Staffordshire county, England, July 6, 1838. He came to the United States when quite a young man and returned to England about two years later and married. He then came to Friedland, this county, where his wife and five children, who are all married, survive him. He was born and raised a Catholic, but as there was no Catholic church near his home, he joined the Methodist church at Salem several years ago. "Uncle Tommy," as he was generally known, was an honest, upright man. He realized from the beginning of his illness, which only lasted about four days, that his time on earth was short and he talked beautifully of his going away. He said "I have lived out my usefulness and am ready to meet my Master." He was laid to rest in Cane Run cemetery, January 28, 1914.

The pall-bearers were: W. P. Miller, C. C. Christian, C. D. Dean, W. T. Jamison, L. S. Hoover, Westley Raley, all of whom were past seventy years of age.

WILL ASSESS PENALTIES OF OVER SIX MILLIONS

Against John D. Rockefeller If The Present Plans
Carry Out.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 7.—John D. Rockefeller's trip to Tarrytown, N. Y., where he arrived to-day, will cost him exactly $6,345,000 if Tax Commissioners Fackler and Agnew can make him pay it.

If Rockefeller had shown up at the court house to-day in response to the Tax Commissioners' demand of last Tuesday, that he pay taxes here on his $900,000,000 personal property, they would have soaked him for only $12,690,000.

But inasmuch as John D. skipped to his Pocantico Hills estate Friday night, the eve of the last five days of grace allowed him, the taxers plan to attach a 50 per cent. penalty.

If the taxers are able to collect, and they are going to fight for every cent that's due, John D.'s little excursion to his Tarrytown estate will cost him: $10,755.93 for each of the 500 miles, $66.99 for each rail end over which his Pullman elicked, $2.03 for each foot he traveled.

The departure of the Oil King from Cleveland was sudden. Not even his closest friends knew of his intention.

Fackler and Agnew started an investigation into the wealth of Rockefeller to-day as a means of getting his personal property on the Cuyahoga county duplicate.

TOT ON TRICYCLE RIDES SEVEN MILES IN RAIN

The Courier-Journal of Saturday says:

For speed and endurance on a velocipede, Walter Wilbert, 3 years old, established a record in the rain yesterday, when he rode seven miles from 3410 Planz avenue to Third street and Ormsby avenue, and Bernard Imorde, a grocer, took him in charge. The boy was soaked and too weak to ride further.

Imorde questioned him and, learning he had been lost, took him to the Sixth district police station. Mrs. Albert Wilbert, of the Planz avenue address, notified the Central district police that her little grandson had disappeared, and was told he had been found. The boy was taken home by his father, Charles Wilbert, a janitor at the city hall.

ADMINISTRATRIX SALE.

As administratrix of the estate of John E. Wilson, deceased, I will on Saturday, March 7, 1914, at the late residence of John H. Wilson, one mile northeast of Sunnydale, on the Hartford and Havesville road, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, all of the personal estate of said Wilson, consisting of 4 head of young cattle, 4 fat hogs, about 250 bushels of corn, farming implements, plows, harrows, wheat drill, cultivators, road scraper, etc. Also household and kitchen furniture consisting of one upright piano, and other articles too numerous to mention. Also three thousand dollars worth of shares of stock in Dundee Deposit Bank.

Terms of Sale—All sums under $10 cash in hand paid. All sums $10 and over, on three months time, with note and surety to be approved by me.

This February 3, 1914.

OHIO CIRCUIT COURT.

Com'th. vs. Harry Jackson, Jr.—default judgment $50 and costs.
Com'th. vs. Barnard Bond—name in indictment changed to Vernon Baughn. Thereupon defendant, by attorney, entered a plea of guilty and law and facts being submitted to the court he was fined $5. Fine and costs paid.

Com'th. vs. Jack Collins—statement filed by Com'th. Attorney and prosecution dismissed.

Com'th. vs. Leonard Wedding—fled away with leave to reinstate.

Com'th. vs. Murray Crowe—plea of guilty entered. Law and facts submitted to the court and fined $25 and ten days in jail, whereupon the defendant was given into the custody of Jailer W. P. Midkiff.

The case of Com'th. vs. Clarence Keown for killing of Cecile Greer last August consumed most of Wednesday and Thursday. Nothing new was brought out in the trial. It was almost a foregone conclusion before the jury brought in the verdict acquitting Keown, that the "unwritten law" would prevail, which was the result. Those composing the jury were: Jack Hale, S. T. Leach, W. E. Sanderfur, W. A. Embury, Herman Renter, C. D. Wallace, W. M. Addington, J. A. Renner, S. H. Riley, S. W. Leach, H. A. Porter and A. C. Johnson.

Com'th. vs. Murray Crowe—plea of guilty entered, law and facts to the court and a fine of $50 was assessed and defendant given into the custody of the jailer.

Com'th. vs. Ed Nall—verdict of jury, not guilty.

Com'th. vs. Bruno Frey—plea of guilty entered by defendant. Law and facts to the court and fined $60. Capias pro fine not to issue until ordered by Com'th. Attorney.

Com'th. vs. Jas. Thudle—Frank Black resigned as committee. An allowance of $75 was made for Thudle for ensuing year.

Com'th. vs. Bruno Frey—defendant moved to set aside the judgment rendered herein.

Com'th. vs. R. A. Pierce—defendant's motion for new trial being overruled, fine and costs were paid.

Com'th. vs. H. E. Pierce (3 cases). Com'th. vs. R. H. Pierce. The four foregoing prosecutions were filed away with leave to reinstate on motion of Com'th. or County Attorney.

The grand jury returned an indictment against Josh Crowe last Friday, charging him with the crime of murder.

The grand jury last Saturday returned the following indictments: Seven against Will Duke, charging him with unlawfully selling liquor; one against Robert Hillard, charging the crime of wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously deserting his children.

The grand jury being unable to complete its work last week, time was extended to and including Thursday, February 12th.

The civil cases on the ordinary docket, disposed of so far follow:

J. T. Carter vs. H. L. Tucker—continued.

Silas Scott vs. I. C. R. R. Co.—passed.

W. J. Smith vs. I. C. R. R. Co.—dismissed, settled.

J. H. Wilson vs. Oscar McDaniel—dismissed.

Sarah A. Pearson vs. W. H. Curtis—continued.

T. Wade Stratton vs. General Accident Life & Fire Assurance Co.—judgment for plaintiff.

Thomas Williams vs. L. D. Ashby—verdict of jury for plaintiff.

W. E. Porter, admr., vs. Taylor Coal Co.—set forward to Tuesday, 8th day.

C. E. Crowder vs. Home Insurance Co.—set forward to Thursday, 10th day.

O. T. O'Hannon & Co. vs. Ayer & Lord Tie Co.—verdict of jury $2,500 for plaintiffs.

The suit of W. E. Porter, admr., vs. Taylor Coal Co., is now on trial with H. P. Taylor, Ernest Woodward and Judge J. M. Porter representing plaintiff, Glenn S. Sinnerman of the local bar, Lavega Clements and Ben D. Ringo, of Owensboro, representing the defense. The plaintiff sues to recover $20,000 for the death of J. E. Porter, who was killed by black damp in the Taylor Coal Co.'s old works last May when four men lost their lives.

ROAD FUND GROWING—

LIST OF THE DONATORS

To Cash Prizes To Put The County Roads In Good Condition.

The scheme of Dr. Ford and other business men of Hartford to get the roads of Ohio county put in good condition is progressing nicely. The idea is to get as many sections of the county roads worked as possible, under certain rules and conditions, particulars of which are found upon the sixth page of The Herald today. Several cash prizes will be given for this work, on a percentage basis, which is explained in the article mentioned. The farmers seem to be taking to the idea with enthusiasm. Already Messrs. Henry and James Pirtle, H. A. and J. A. Baird have entered the contest.

There is no reason why a large number of farmers should not enter this friendly rivalry, for it is a game in which they cannot really lose. If they fail to capture a cash prize, they will have the satisfaction of knowing they have done a splendid piece of work for their county and section. There is no more important matter before the people (especially of Ohio county) to-day than that of good roads.

DR. WEDDING DEAD—WAS UNIVERSALLY ESTEEMED

Dr. S. J. Wedding, one of Hartford's most beloved and respected citizens, died at his residence here Tuesday night of last week, after a lingering illness.

Dr. Wedding was born near Barrett's Ferry, this county, September 29, 1849. He graduated in medicine at the University of Louisville in the spring of 1881. In 1876 he was married to Miss Susan W. Bennett and to this union four children were born—A. H. Wedding, of Dundee; L. E. Wedding, deceased; Mrs. Artie Lewis, of San Antonio, Texas, and Miss Nora, at home. He was married again to Miss Minnie Renfrow, who survives. To this union was born one child, Walter, at home.

Dr. Wedding was considered one of the foremost physicians of this section and he was universally beloved and esteemed.

Funeral services were conducted at the residence by Father O'Sullivan, of the Whitesville Catholic church, Thursday morning at ten o'clock, after which the internment took place at Oakwood.

"MYSTERIOUS CITY" TO GO AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Town Was Recently Founded By Indiana Man Opposite Evansville.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 7.—What is known as the "Mysterious City," in Horseshoe Bend, this county, opposite Evansville, will be sold at public outcry by the Farmers' Bank and Trust Company, as agent, at the court house door in this city on February 12.

A concrete clubhouse, together with ten acres of land, a dynamo, boilers, electric light machinery, etc., are to be sold and the upset price is $4,000.

About three years ago J. A. Brown conceived the idea of establishing a communistic colony and built thereon a concrete clubhouse with many rooms and a dance hall, which was called the administration building. It is said that about $22,000 had been spent on the scheme, and the owners and backers were Hawley, Crawford & Murphy. The power of attorney to sell the property was recently sent by J. A. Crawford and I. C. Renhardt to the Farmers' Bank and Trust Co.

This administration building is on a high mound above the highest high water, and is also equipped with a waterworks plant. It was the general supposition that Brown in the erection of this "mysterious city" was establishing a miniature Monte Carlo, and that he expected to transfer the patronage of his sporting establishment in Evansville to this city. His place in Evansville was broken up after two raids by the police.

Brown's money soon ran out and the place has been tenanted for more than a year. Recently it was sold at the court house door by the Sheriff for State and county taxes amounting to about $30, and was bid in by the county.

A GOOD CAUSE AS TO WHY HE IS PROSPEROUS

The Breckenridge News speaks of a prosperous young farmer near Rosetta who has a small farm well stocked with cattle and hogs. It was unnecessary to say that he is prosperous. Any farmer who has his farm well stocked with cattle and hogs is prosperous. It's the man who raises tobacco and buys hogs and cattle for his food supplies that is poor, and there is no hope of his being otherwise than poor so long as

MAKES OLD PEOPLE STRONG AND WELL

We want to get the news to all old people about Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion, a remarkable new food medicine which we firmly believe is the best remedy ever made to overcome the weakening, debilitating effects of increasing old age. It helps to rebuild wasted tissues, strengthen the nerves, and give new energy and a lively feeling to the body. It contains no alcohol or dangerous drug. It may not make you feel better for a few days, but if you do not feel much better and stronger before you have taken a quarter as much as you have taken of other medicines that have not helped you, we will gladly give back your money.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion contains pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites which, though they have long been endorsed by successful physicians, are here for the first time combined. The result is a real body, nerve and blood-building food medicine that we believe is superior to anything else in overcoming debility, weakness and flabbiness to disease, and to tone and strengthen the nerves and enrich the blood. You who are weak and run-down—you who are often troubled by various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. It is a sensible, pleasant-tasting aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health. If it doesn't help you, come and tell us and we will give back your money without a word. That is how much faith we have in it. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00.—James H. Williams, 214 Main St., Hartford, Ky. (Advertisement.)

he continues his single crop farming. There is not enough money in tobacco for it to provide all the necessities of a family, it matters not how economically they may live. There is not a good market every year for tobacco, and when there is, it is for a few months only. There is a market every day in the week, throughout the entire year, for cattle and hogs. There is good money in corn, hay and other crops.—Uniontown Telegram.

SOME VEHICLES.

(By Walt Mason.)
I've often seen the circus pass, with stately horses hitched in line, all bright with shining paint and brass—It sent a thrill clear up my spine. I've seen the rich man's motor car, that cost him many thousand bones; it buried the road up near and far, and honked in loud Caruso tones. I've seen all things that go on wheels, whatever be the motive power; and, viewing them, a fellow feels he's living in a modern hour. Of all the vehicles that roll along the pike from sun to sun, of all that stir me to the soul, the water wagon takes the bun. The water wagon has no gilt, nor is it hauled by circus span, and all its seats and springs are built upon a stern, old-fashioned plan; methinks its wheels are needling grease, and one can hear them squeal and grind; but those upon it ride to Peace, and leave the Land of Grief behind. Hang on, hang on, O thirsty boys, be not displaced by jests or sneers; you're headed now for sinner joys than you have known in many years!

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, E. J. INTELLECTUAL EFFORT AND RELIGIOUS ENDEAVOR

The supreme problem of mission work does not lie out in the fields, but here in the home land among the churches. The question of all questions with us is the preparation of a suitable home base for our missionary operations.

Unless all competent witnesses are mistaken, we have come to a time of most vital importance in our foreign mission work. The crowning day of all the ages for giving the gospel to the whole world is upon us. Those who are in the best position to know tell us that in all Asia, including the Turkish empire, Japanese empire, Indian empire and China, there is a rising tide of opportunity, and the tide is surging, rushing everywhere. Even in Japan, another day of visitation has come. It is the judgment of missionaries and Japanese leaders that the opportunity among the educated class is as great now as it has ever been, and among the ignorant classes it is even greater than at any time in the past. We all know something of the opportunities in China.

Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Rev. James A. Lewis, Milaca, Minn., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been a needed and welcome guest in our home for a number of years. I highly recommend it to my fellows as being a medicine worthy of trial in cases of colds, coughs and croup." Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a trial and we are confident you will find it very effective and continue to use it as occasion requires for years to come, as many others have done. A Mice War Witness.

Fifty years ago a Federal recruiting officer in Kennebec, Me., persuaded men who were working in the fields to enlist in the civil war, and one of them placed his scythe in the crotch of a tree when leaving. The scythe remained there, and although the wooden handle has rotted away, the blade remains, imbedded in the tree trunk, which is now twenty inches in diameter.

ROAD-WORKING CONTEST FOR OHIO COUNTY MEN

Splendid Plan With Good Cash Prizes For The Winning Workers.

Dr. E. W. Ford and other professional and business men of Hartford, realizing the worth and importance of good roads in this locality, have taken up the question as to how best to secure them. The following solution has been handed us by Dr. Ford to put before the people and if carried out in the manner prescribed should prove a success.

Rules to govern Hartford's road working contest:

1. All contestants to register their names and section of road proposed to be worked by March 1, 1914, with County Judge Jno. H. Wilson.
2. No contestant for a prize will be considered unless he or they work as much as one-fourth mile.
3. No contestants will be allowed to plow or dig his road bed.
4. Sinks may be filled or ditches opened with any tool, but the road bed must be surfaced by the Split-Log Drag or some modification of it, preferably done while road is wet.
5. Two or more may register and work jointly on agreed section.
6. All work must be voluntary and without other compensation than the prize and the good road.
7. The work will be under the supervision of T. H. Benton, County Road Engineer, or W. N. Stevens, Commissioner for district, who will furnish information and advice freely.
8. The contestants will be allowed to elect judges.

The contest shall be decided upon the following percentage basis. Any dirt road in or tributary to Hartford not more than five miles from the court house, will limit the field of contest. Points as follows:

- Ten per cent. to party first beginning his work.
- Thirty per cent. to section in best condition May 1, 1914.
- Twenty per cent. to longest section worked by any party.
- Ten per cent. to best drained section of road.
- Ten per cent. to worst section to work.
- Ten per cent. to section having heaviest traffic.
- Ten per cent. to section worked with the most economical drag.
- Every section may get some credit under each item mentioned.
- The section receiving the highest percentage to receive the first prize and so on down to the 10th.
- The different prizes are to consist of a purse subscribed by the business men and citizens of Hartford.

How Is Your Boller.

It has been stated that a man's stomach is his boller, his body is his engine and his mouth the fire box. Is your boller (stomach) in good working order or is it so weak that it will not stand a full load and not able to supply the needed energy to your engine (body)? If you have any trouble with your stomach Chamberlain's Tablets will do you good. They strengthen and invigorate the stomach and enable it to do its work naturally. Many very remarkable cures of stomach trouble have been effected by them. For sale by all dealers. (Advertisement.)

LITTLE YET REMAINING OF CEDARS OF LEBANON

All that now remains of the cedars of Lebanon is a little forest of some four hundred trees, which are rigidly preserved. They lie on a small fertile plateau, situated at an altitude of six thousand one hundred and twenty-three feet above sea-level. The grove is reached from Behsherrah by a steep and winding road. With the exception of a few stragglers, the grove is inclosed by a great stone wall built by a former Governor of Lebanon to protect the smaller trees from the goats.

The older trees have always occupied a position of honor in the estimation of man because of their connection with the Temple built by Solomon and the various allusions to them in the Bible.

Tutt's Pills

This popular remedy never fails to effectually cure Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness and ALL DISEASES arising from a Torpid Liver and Bad Digestion. The natural result is good appetite and solid flesh. Dose small; sugar coated and easy to swallow. Take No Substitute.

where forests of tall trees do not exist, the cedars naturally excite admiration and a modern Syrian writer says of them that they are undeniably the most lofty of all the vegetable kingdom. We know of course that this is hardly the case, for the famous redwood trees of California reach a height of over three hundred feet, while in Tasmania the blue gum is almost as large so far as height is concerned. The cedars are actually about eighty feet high, which is more than the height of the trees of an average forest.—[Wide World Magazine.]

A Winter Cough.

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders, of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption, after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung trouble." Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50c and $1.00. At all druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis. (Advertisement.)

MISTAKEN FOR CONVICT MAN IS SENT TO PRISON

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 7.—A. D. Oliver, merchant, of Thomasville, Ga., returned to his home to-day after serving two months in a Mississippi prison, the victim of mistaken identity.

Oliver, whose resemblance to a man known as L. Charles Harding, who escaped from prison at Aberdeen some months ago, caused his arrest at Thomasville last November, established an alibi when he was brought before Chancellor P. Z. Jones here on a writ of habeas corpus several days ago. His immediate release was "ordered" by the chancellor.

RETAIL DRUGGISTS OF OHIO COUNTY RECEIVE A "TAR HEEL" REMEDY

A Vapor Treatment in the Form of a Salve—Relieves Colds Over Night, Croup in Fifteen Minutes —Druggists Will Give Away 25 Cent Packages Free.

The local druggists will soon receive from North Carolina, the "Tar Heel" State, a remedy for all cold troubles that is entirely different from the usual run of cough syrups and cold tablets.

It is in the form of a salve that is vaporized by the heat of the body when applied to the throat and chest. These antiseptic vapors are inhaled with each breath and combined with the absorption of the preparation through the skin, give almost immediate relief in even the worst cases of croup and relieve head and chest colds overnight.

But the fact of most interest to mothers about this new treatment is that it is external and can thus be used with perfect safety on the youngest member of the family.

In cases of incipient pneumonia or severe colds, first apply hot wet towels to open the pores of the skin, then rub the salve in well and cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covers loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freshly inhaled. The next morning you hardly realize you had a cold as the head is clear, phlegm loosened and soreness gone from the lungs.

In advanced cases of pneumonia the use of this preparation in connection with the regular physician's treatment will greatly aid the patient's chances of recovery. Combined with the absorption of the treatment through the skin, the medicated vapors inhaled loosen the wreckage in the lungs and render the breathing less difficult. This takes part of the work from the overtaxed heart and thus lowers the fever.

These seem strong claims, but the wholesale houses in Owensboro, Louisville and other cities who have investigated the results of this treatment in the South, are so convinced of its merit that they have authorized the retail druggists to sell it on 30 days' trial and to refund the price to any user who is not delighted with the results.

In addition the druggists are arranging to give away a limited number of 25-cent packages free to their regular customers. Present the coupon below and if your dealer has not yet received his shipment he will reserve you a package.—James H. Williams, 214 Main St., Hartford, Ky.

INTERURBAN CAR LINE
FOR MUHLENBERG TOWNS

Is Now Assured The People By Splendid Financial Backing.

The Central City Argus says: The Argus is authorized this week to introduce to the public the real backing of the Central City, Greenville and Drakesboro Railway company, and it is expected that the names divulged will put a quietus on the reports that the proposition is merely a promotion scheme. The incorporators are Gen. T. C. Dupont, of Wilmington, Delaware; L. L. Dunham, of New York; Daniel Canfield, of Wilmington, W. H. Netherlands, of Louisville; Hubert Meredith, of Greenville; and S. J. Gish and James H. Small, of Central City. To this board will later be added another director from Central City, another from Greenville and one from Drakesboro, so that the presence of the non-resident directors will not be necessary for all meetings.

Articles of incorporation have been drawn up, with the above named men as the incorporators and first Board of Directors. The capital stock is $300,000, with an authorized indebtedness of $500,000, giving a working fund of $800,000, if needed. Of the capital stock $50,000 is to be placed in Central City, Greenville and Drakesboro in as small blocks as available.

Franchises have been arranged for in Central City and Greenville, and the route has already been surveyed and marked off, so quietly that few people realized it. This route will be followed if no serious obstructions are met in securing a right-of-way, but if difficulties are encountered the line may easily be shifted. The route already surveyed runs the length of Broad street in Central City, out Center to Slick Row, down Slick Row and parallels the L. C. railroad, on the south side, to Greenville, taking in Brownsville, Hillside, Mercer and Powderly, and ending at the court house square in Greenville.

The plans for the interurban line contemplate a track to the river and another to Drakesboro, but it is the Greenville line which will be constructed first. This is the line which is most needed and offers the best investment. The other lines will follow shortly, as the river line is essential to a large turbine power plant which is to be erected at the river. The same men who are backing the interurban line will build the power plant, supplying it with slack from the 21 mines which the interurban line will tap. But the railway is the first consideration.

GROUND HOG NOT SUCH A GOOD WEATHER PROPHECY

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: The groundhog saw his shadow the 2d inst.—that is, if he came out of his hole and was not blind—for the sun shone brightly practically all day.

That Mr. Groundhog is not "such a much" as a weather forecaster appears to be indicated by the Weather Bureau's records for the past 22 years. They show that the sun made its appearance on February 2 of every year since 1902, and during the 10 years prior to 1902 it made its appearance three times on that date, but they also show that sunshine on February 2 does not always mean cold weather, nor the lack of it mean a short winter. This is how it does out:

On February 2, 1910, there was sunshine, and presumably the groundhog saw his shadow, but the following March was the warmest on record since 1870, when the first Weather Bureau records were begun. In 1906 the sun shone and the following March was the coldest since 1870.

On February 2 of the years 1909 and 1911 the month of February was the warmest in 25 years, despite the fact that the groundhog saw his shadow. On "Groundhog Day," 1902, the sun shone and the month was the coldest in 10 years. All of which makes one wonder whether there is anything in the groundhog tradition.

LAW FOR PISTOL-TOTERS
DRASTIC IN MEANING

Drastic punishment for carrying concealed deadly weapons is provided in a bill that passed the Kentucky Senate a few days ago without a dissenting vote. Under the provisions of the measure a first conviction carries with it disfranchisement for two years, in addition to a fine of from $10 to $100 and a jail sentence of from ten to forty days. The penalty upon second conviction is confinement in the penitentiary for from one to five years. The bill further provides a fine of from $10 to $50 for the failure or refusal of a circuit clerk or sheriff to issue a capias or execute the judgment.

A number of amendments were offered, but were either withdrawn or voted down.

The bill, should it pass the House and become a law, and it is almost certain that it will, will go a long way toward breaking up the practice of carrying concealed deadly weapons.—[Lebanon Enterprise.]

Great Weekly at a Low Price.

The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, a twelve-page paper recently transformed into the size and appearance of a daily, will be furnished in connection with the Hartford Herald at only $1.35 for the two papers. It is Democratic and progressive. This is certainly a low price for a lot of good reading.

CORDNER WAS KILLED
WHILE MAKING ARREST

Leslie Matthews Shot In Taylor
County—Others Were Wounded.

Campbellsville, Ky., Feb. 7.—Coroner Leslie Matthews and Deputy Coroner Charles Hayes, Jailer John Peterson, Garfield Disney and three other men went to the home of Cleves and William Murray, on Meadow Creek, this county, this forenoon to dispossess the Murrays, who are alleged to have refused to vacate when their home was sold to settle an estate. The Murrays had heard of the intended visit of the officers and had warned the latter, it is alleged, that they would kill anyone that tried to dispossess them.

The seven officers stood in front of the door, while Matthews parleyed with Will Murray in an effort to induce him to come out and surrender; that they would not hurt him, whereupon his sister came to the door and said:

"You better go on off. You know Bill is not responsible for what he does, and he says he will kill you."

A moment later most of the seven men raised their guns, but too late, as Bill shot first, and said: "I don't want to hurt any more of you. I got the one I wanted."

Murray's sister received one buckshot through her wrist, supposed to be from Peterson's shotgun as only two shots were fired, Murray's shotgun spreading its charge enough to kill Matthews instantly and badly wounding Hayes, who was standing by his side. The range was so close that ninety-five shot took effect in Matthews' body from wrist to chin. He exclaimed, "Boys, I'm shot," and died.

All the Murrays are in jail. Feel-

Matthews was elected Coroner at the recent November election and entered on his duties January 1. He is survived by his wife and three children. He was the only brother of the late Rufus Matthews, a former newspaper man of this city. Hayes, while badly wounded, has a chance to recover.

Upon assuming his duties as Coroner on January 1, Matthews was appointed elisor of Taylor county, which has no Sheriff.
